

Tim Ingle

Tim Ingle serves as group vice president and chief financial officer for Toyota Motor North America (TMNA), responsible for accounting, finance, tax and enterprise strategy.

Prior to this role, Tim Ingle served as group vice president of Enterprise Strategy for TMNA. In this role, Ingle was responsible for mid- to long-term core business strategies, including market and consumer insights, transformation and new business opportunities, portfolio and compliance strategies and overall business planning, meant to support sustainable mobility for TMNA customers.

Ingle also served as vice president of North America Finance, and vice president of Strategic Planning, where he was responsible for North America business strategy and planning, portfolio management, enterprise risk management, corporate governance and new strategic initiatives.

Ingle has served in a number of project planning, operations and corporate strategy roles, since he began his career at TMNA in 2002.

Prior to Toyota, Ingle held project management roles at other large organizations, including Intel and the U.S. Department of Energy.

Ingle holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, a Master of Science in Management, and a Master of Science in Mechanical Engineering, from Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).