

Toyota Motor Manufacturing Tennessee

September 24, 2024

Image not found or type unknown

Toyota Motor Manufacturing Tennessee builds engine blocks for cars, SUVs and trucks assembled in North America. The plant's more than 450-member workforce is responsible for bringing vehicles to life by using aluminum to create thousands of engine blocks and transmission cases and housings every day. Toyota Tennessee produces nearly 2 million engine blocks and more than 1 million transmission cases and housings per year.