

Team Toyota's Jessie Diggins Wins First-Ever U.S. Olympic Medal in Cross-Country Skiing Individual Sprint Event

February 08, 2022

Image not found or type unknown

BEIJING (Feb. 8, 2022) – At 30 years old, Team Toyota’s Jessie Diggins won her second Olympic medal, taking third place in the women’s cross-country skiing individual sprint free event at the Olympic Winter Games Beijing 2022. Diggins became the first American to win a medal for the U.S. in a cross-country skiing individual sprint event with the historic bronze medal win.

With a time of 3:12.84, Diggins’ podium appearance marks her first individual Olympic medal and makes her the first U.S. woman to win an individual cross-country medal.

A flag bearer for the U.S. in the Closing Ceremony at the Olympic Winter Games PyeongChang 2018, Diggins and her partner secured a dramatic win in the team sprint freestyle that year, which resulted in Team USA’s first gold medal in the sport and first women’s medal.

For additional bio information and image assets on this Team Toyota athlete, click here. For all news related to the Winter Games, including additional Team Toyota athletes who are competing, click here.

For up-to-date athlete news, follow #TeamToyota on Instagram (@TeamToyota).