Toyota’s commitment to the communities in which it operates in has been ingrained in the company for many years. Volunteering, donating and sharing knowledge are just a few of the ways Toyota and its employees give back to the communities in which they work and live.

From local park restoration to building ramps for the physically- and visually-impaired, team members at Toyota’s U.S. manufacturing plants have been busy this year giving back and serving their communities. Let’s take a look at the impact they’ve made in 2022.
