

ExxonMobil and Toyota Team Up to Test Fuels with a Lower Carbon Footprint

April 12, 2023

Image not found or type unknown

ExxonMobil is exploring innovative fuel blends with the potential to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from road transportation up to 75% compared to conventional fuels available today.*

Toyota has determined that these innovative formulas are compatible with older vehicles as well as its current model line-up.

These lower carbon fuels are intended to be compatible with existing fueling infrastructure.

Both companies agree that multiple solutions and supportive policies are required to reach a lower emission future for transportation. Watch this video for more details.